HERDING NOTES

BCCA HERDING DATABASE ACCESS

Anyone may view dogs' records in the database. The login credentials below provide view access only. If you find errors, contact me. Remember that there is a delay in posting the results because AKC sends title reports monthly and trial qualifying runs quarterly. AHBA data are posted approximately quarterly

HERDING REGISTER OF MERIT BCCA AWARDS

Just in case you wonder what these awards suggest, here's a concise explanation. The point of herding ROMs is to show that certain attributes (biddability, stock sense, trainability, temperament) are carried through to the offspring and thus show consistency in breeding. ROMs aren't supposed to be easy to earn. The current herding ROM criteria (how many titles earned by how many progeny) were based on the other ROMs in existence at the time the standing rule was written (1999).

The ROMH and ROMHX Bearded Collie sires and dams are listed here: <https://beardedcollieclub.us/activities/herding/bcca-programs/romh-and-romi-awards/>

A noteworthy statistic about the herding ROMH awards (or eligible for award based on criteria but not ownership) is the remarkable achievement of producing a dog who succeeded in obtaining the highest AKC herding level – that of herding championship. Since 1998 10 sires and 12 dams have done so according to existing records.

AGILITY EXERCISE

David Williamson • beardieboys@att.net

This exercise is designed to work the see-saw/tunnel conflict. First, pattern-train your Beardedie to the sequence by staying on the inside of the obstacles and doing a cross (your choice) after the tunnel.

Next, lead out past #2 so that you can run on the outside of the see-saw. Here's where you can 1) front-cross between #3 and #4, then rear-cross between #4 and #5; or 2) rear-cross after #3 then front-cross between #4 and #5. You can also work the sequence using blind crosses after #3 and after #4.

Working and pattern-training with all the possibilities above will help make your Beardedie more versatile and more comfortable in situations where you need to maneuver yourself in front of and behind tricky obstacles.

Be sure to tune in to the next issue of the Bagpipes as I'll have a write-up from the folks who competed at AKC Agility Nationals! Happy training and see you next month!
