GOING FOR IT IN ORLANDO

Lori Weinberg

In December, Blade and I were honored to attend the AKC Agility Invitational in Orlando Florida. This is a very unique event that is by invitation only and recognizes the top agility dogs in each breed. It is a rare opportunity to see all of the breeds represented by the teams that are at the top of their game. To receive the prized invite, you must be ranked in the top five of your breed. This is determined by MACH points, plus ten points for each QQ earned during the qualification period. In addition, the top preferred dog will receive an invite as well.

The Invitational has the feel of a “big” out of town trial. There are many familiar faces of fellow competitors, judges and AKC Reps. In the 20” class there were 138 dogs entered, slightly larger than what I see in our local trials. There are four rounds over the two days. Two jumpers courses, one standard course and one hybrid course (a standard course without a dog walk). It is the cumulative score of these four rounds that determine how you rank. To get a score you must complete all the obstacles. Faults will incur a five-point deduction (knocked bars, missed contacts, wrong courses, refusals).

I have a clear objective when I attend the Invitational. First, have four clean rounds. It is rare for anyone to make it into the final round without four clean rounds. Second, be the fastest Bearded Collie with four clean rounds. Only one dog from a breed can make it into the finals. The number of spots in the finals is based on a percentage of the number of dogs entered. This year there were only 11 spots for the 20” dogs. So just having four clean rounds doesn’t guarantee you a spot in the finals. You definitely need fast times.

This year six Bearded Collies and handlers were in attendance.

Lori Weinberg (me) and Blade

With this group of dogs and handlers, I knew Blade and I needed to be at the top of our game. At the central scoring table there is a large monitor that keeps a running tally of the rounds so you can keep track of how you are doing compared to the other dogs in your class. Blade and I fared well in each round.

After Round #1 JWW – 15th place

Round #2 Standard – 13th place cumulative

Round #3 Hybrid – 11th place cumulative

Round #4 JWW – 8th place cumulative

Finals – seeded in 7th place

It was very exciting to get into the Finals. Before our run I looked at the cumulative times of the dogs seeded ahead of us just to see where Blade and I were in the hunt. I was thrilled to see that Blade at #7 was separated by only 0.53 seconds from seeds #5 and #6. I could easily make-up that time with a stellar run! So, I was ready to give it everything we had. The stands were full, and it was live streamed, which added to the excitement of the run. Blade’s opening was fast and tight. At the 9th obstacle Blade flipped the wrong way after a jump. I tried to recover by hanging back, I lost my footing and stumbled, and just couldn’t recover. I was out of position for the next sequence. But I kept my head in the game and we kept running hard. We finished strong to the cheers of the crowd.

He had four clean rounds, a beautiful ribbon for running in the finals and took the medal for the Top Bearded Collie at the 2017 Invitational. I could not have asked for more from my partner Blade.

REGISTER OF MERIT FOR AGILITY

Libby Myers-Buhite, Joanne Williamson, and Cheri Omnus

Congratulations to all the owners and breeders whose Beardies have earned the Register of Merit for agility in 2017! The Register of Merit for Agility (ROMA) is given to dams with two or more offspring who have earned three or more AKC Agility titles and to sires with two or more get who have earned five or more AKC Agility titles. The Register of Merit for Agility Excellent (ROMAX) is given to dams with two or more offspring who have earned ten or more AKC Agility titles and to sires with two or more get who have earned fifteen or more AKC Agility titles. Either regular titles or preferred titles may be counted toward the Register of Merit Agility, whichever titles are higher, but they may not be added together. Currently only Standard and JWW titles are counted.

THIS MONTH

The 2017 BCCA yearly herding awards (including the new Jack Award on ducks that was recently approved by the Board), old and new ideas for training, the unending reminder to check your dog's AKC run information and Course D starting up this summer. The complete regs for Course D are at <https://goo.gl/HKcRda>

Congratulations to the large number of handlers and Beardies out there training, walking those miles, trialing, and being successful. Along with the herding titles and awards comes the contribution to the new herding ROM's (three ROMI dams, one ROMIX dam, two ROMH dams, and four ROMH sires).

A special hats off/well done for the newest Bearded DC, Pentangle's If You Please, HSA's HSB's HIA's HIB's HXA's (and multiple AHBA titles); owner Deb Thomas, DVM see why trick training is becoming so popular," said Dr. Mary Burch, AKC Canine Good Citizen and Trick Dog Director. "The primary characteristic of trick dog training is having fun. Tricks can be both entertaining and practical, such as teaching a dog 'paws up' for a therapy setting. Trick dog training makes a team out of the handler and dog. We hope this exciting new program will encourage more dogs and owners to become involved in training."

Trick titles can be awarded by AKC approved Canine Good Citizen Evaluators, and the AKC will also recognize trick titles earned through the Do More With Your Dog (DMWYD) organization. To learn more about the AKC Trick Dog program and access the title application form, please visit www.akc.org/trick-dog.

Many our members and their beardedies are participating in this exciting new program. Since May 2017, 42 beardedies have earned the novice (TKN) title, 12 have earned the intermediate (TKI) title, 10 beardedies have earned the advanced (TKA) title, and four have earned the performer (TKP) title.

"THE WHEELS ON THE BUS...", GO ROUND, AND ROUND, AND ROUND, AND ROUND, HIGHLAND HERDING

Ann Witte (Oct/Nov 2003)

That refrain describes what a Beardie does when trained in the ever-present Round pen. This kind of training causes several problems which can interfere with a dog's progress in herding. First and foremost, herding is usually done in straight lines, especially in Trials (any venue). Until and unless a dog learns to move stock in these straight lines, success in any venue is unlikely. In the round pen (ordinarily used to keep closer to the dog so that the trainer can correct him), the dog is having this penchant for circling reinforced, not eliminated!

Second, herding is usually done in open fields; most Beardies are somewhat claustrophobic and will be far tenser and "nibbly" in such close quarters. Given space to move at a distance from the stock, nearly every Beardie will run wider and more relaxed.

Third, the most difficult problem with loose-eyed dogs like Beardies is to break them of over-flanking; the round pen will actually encourage over-flanking. Fourth (and most important if the dog is to be run at anything above Started level) is that the flanks as learned in a round pen are always centered on the handler rather than the stock.

At a recent set of Trials, a very talented dog with ONLY round pen experience lost 2 of his 3 Started runs to the circling/over flanking problems he had learned in that restricted training area. Only the handler's experience saved with the one qualifying run with a nice 82 point score.

DUCKS AND OBSTACLES

Elsa Sell

Here's a challenge test. When stock are moved through or around obstacles, the obstacle components are perpendicular to the ground. Stock "see" those barriers and won't bump into them or race past them provided a dog is moving the stock in a calm manner and has control; the stock goes where directed by the dog. Did you ever wonder what might happen if the obstacle were an object on the ground? How many times have you noticed that stock are reluctant to move into a space (open field or at an obstacle) where there is a change in lighting (sunlight vs. shade or shady vs. even more shade)? For example, if you handled cattle in a working corral to move them into a chute and head hold and they had to go from bright sunlight to relative darkness because of a roof overhead – you would notice that they balked where it becomes shady. Another example - if you watched early morning ducks trial runs with sun coming from the East and the Y chute on the west side of the arena – you might see the ducks balk at entry to the Y chute; on a cloudy or raining day, they would not balk there. I witness the former regularly on our farm and saw the latter in our winter herding trial even with advanced dogs. The audience were located on the East side so it was impossible to see exactly what made the ducks so apprehensive about going into the Y chute – a high percentage bet would be some bit of shade on the ground from the sun hitting the arena side of the Y chute.

Now, to objects on the ground rather than shade. My "safe" (looked it up in Oxford Dictionary) of 16 Blue Swedish drakes is five months old. They have been lightly worked for about two months. They are almost always together, tightly together, inseparable unless eating or bathing. I have noticed that they do not seem to see vertical orange construction fencing as a barrier and they consider anything real or imagined on the ground as a barrier which cannot be approached nor walked over. Maybe they will fly over! They will readily move away from a stock stick with a piece of cloth on the end – sometimes, but not willingly if the path takes them over an object on the ground.

Keep those observations in mind for what follows. I thought it would be fun to offer a challenge course with those ducks for the trainer's dog at a recent Heidi lesson. The trainer brings one or another border collies along. The ducks were in a reasonably sized round pen. The challenge – to drive the ducks together through an opening between a small hand towel and a vest about 8-10 feet apart on the ground in the middle of the pen.

There were multiple attempts at the obstacle marked by on ground "panels". Ducks went left, ducks went right; some ducks split; sometimes they turned back to the fence or a few went through. Eventually the entire group went through the "center line". Big applause!

Then there was work and success at shedding this tight group. I was so busy watching, I forgot to take a photo. There were quite a few changes of direction within an imaginary shed circle; the ducks never stopped moving, but eventually relaxed just a little to spread out ever so slightly, the dog was called and immediately came through and turned to take the proper group. Wow. The cruces for success were to wait for and see slight stock relaxation with slight separation among individuals; then the immediate request for and response of the dog to come through. I was offered the opportunity to try both challenges with Heidi – not today thank you – only in my dreams for now.

DO YOU KNOW IF YOUR BEARDIE RECEIVED CREDIT FOR AN AKC RUN?

BE AWARE – ERRORS MAY HAPPEN EVERY TIME DATA IS TRANSFERRED

As best I understand the system, transfers of AKC herding data are from:

1. The judge's sheet to a marked catalog that goes to AKC (by the trial secretary). In the past this info went into a judge's book which hasn't been used about the last year.
2. The marked catalog into AKC's electronic database (by the performance division)
3. The AKC quarterly report of Beardie runs to the BCCA electronic herding database (to minimize error here, two people on the herding committee do data entry and proofing)

WHY DOES IT MATTER?

1. Finishing a title
2. Credit toward the HC
3. Credit for a HIT or RHIT

SAMPLES OF RECENT ERRORS

(it is unknown exactly where errors occurred).

Owner receives the dog's herding title certificate, HXBd. Date on title is 10/6/17. In February 2018, owner checks BCCA herding database. Discovery? A qualifying run 10/1/2017 in HXBd was listed as a HIBd run. The dog was also entered in HXBd at a 10/6/17 trial and received a qualifying run; thus the AKC title data of 10/6. What would have happened if the dog hadn't been entered in the 10/6/17 trial? Only two qualifying runs and no HXBd title without contacting AKC with the evidence. The score sheet is correct (level/course/stock) – so the error happened thereafter.

Owner discovers in the BCCA herding database that a 10/6/2017 qualifying run in HXAs is not there! That run was the third for the title. So when the dog qualified in HXAs later in October, the title was given on the later date; that later run should have given points toward the HC, but did not. The owner has the score sheet for 10/6/17 and is now in the process of getting the corrections made.

THESE RESOURCES WILL HELP ASSURE PROPER CREDIT. USE THEM!

1. Keep a file for every dog with

a. Q run judge's pink score sheet (be sure the score and judge's signature is legible and that Q is checked before you leave the trial). The original score sheet is retained by the trial secretary for 1 year; the yellow copy is given to the judge.

b. Placement/Q ribbons. Both should have

i. The sponsoring club's name

ii. Event #

iii. Level/course/stock

c. An event marked catalogue; you mark it from the secretary's display of placements and scores

2. Check the AKC event record for the event about a month later (with the recent update of the AKC website, the search function is less user friendly than previously!).

3. Check the BCCA herding electronic database. The data come directly from the AKC quarterly herding statistics reports,

a. The first quarterly report for 2018 will come mid-April

The herding committee data team is devising a method to provide every owner with a summary of their dog(s)' data after each quarter's data entry. The rest is up to you.
