AGILITY AT THE 2018 NATIONAL AGILITY CHAMPIONSHIPS

Suzi Beddoe

The AKC National Agility Championship is a prestigious event where the top qualifying agility teams in the nation compete each year to be crowned “National Champions”. What an extraordinary event to attend and watch, let alone in which to compete!

The National Agility Championship, or NAC, is held each March. The venue rotates between Reno, NV, Tulsa, OK and Perry, GA, giving qualified dog teams the opportunity to compete at the National trial near home every three years. In 2018, to qualify you had to compete at the Master Agility level and have completed the following requirements between Dec. 1, 2016 and Nov. 30, 2017:

- Seven double Qs. (A combination of three Premier Standard legs and three Premier JWW legs could be used to replace up to three of the required double Q’s).
- Every Premier Q earned during the Qualifying period was awarded 25 points towards the NAC point requirement.
- 550 total PACH/Premier Points (or MACH/Premier points for those running in Regular classes)

During the previous year, Emma and I had narrowly missed qualifying for the NAC which showed me that we can compete at this level. In 2017, I wasn’t sure we would be able to qualify as we ended up taking six months off from agility while Emma whelped and raised puppies. When we started trialing again in September, she was running well, and we were able to get it done. I was thrilled! We were going to the Championship!! Just to qualify was a huge accomplishment. Only 15 Beardie teams qualified for the 2018 National: ten at the Standard jump heights and five in Preferred. Congratulations to all!

The four-day NAC was held at the Reno-Sparks Livestock Event Center in Nevada. Thursday was set up and check-in day for most competitors. Walking into the Event Center and seeing all the rings, with the flags of all the states represented hung around the arena walls, is a sight I will always remember. Our crating location was determined by a lottery draw and we were lucky enough to be assigned premium crating in the Main Building. We found our spot and got set up. The magnitude of the experience began to seep in as I stood in line waiting to be officially checked in and receive our bar-coded tag for the weekend. With nearly 1,000 dogs competing in four different rings simultaneously, the bar-coded tag is your entry to play. I was hopeful that there would be other Beardie teams attending (where were you guys?) But we were the only one. We were determined to represent our breed as best we could! There were many vendor booths on the main arena platform, so we finished the day with a bit of shopping, knowing that for the next couple of days we would be totally focused on agility.

The next three days started bright and early at six a.m. with the course map distribution followed by the general walkthroughs of those courses. The height specific walkthroughs started at seven-thirty a.m. and was done in groups of about 50 competitors at a time. When all of the walkthroughs were finally done, the competition would start and each team ran according to their ‘running order number’, which could mean right away or four hours later! Finding a marker dog was hard – soooo many Border Collies – but we were an easy marker dog for others.

Friday started with the warm-up run, which gave us a chance to get accustomed to the rings and footing. The Premier Standard Sweepstakes course, judged by Susan Leitner, was in the afternoon and included all the challenges you would expect to see on a Premier course. It was a fun run and Emma was on her game. She did everything I asked of her. Unfortunately, that included going to the backside of a jump (rather than the face of it) right at the end of the run. Good dog, bad handler = NQ for Team Emma.

Saturday was the first official day of the championship rounds. As we came into the arena that morning, the

AKC INVITATIONAL STANDINGS – 3RD QUARTER

The qualifying year for the AKC Invitational runs from July 1, 2017 – June 30, 2018. Teams earn points for each full second under Standard Course Time in Master Standard and Jumpers With Weaves and 10 additional points each time they qualify in both Standard and JWW on the same day. The top five Beardies competing in the regular classes and the top Beardedie competing in the Preferred classes will receive invitations to compete at the championships that will be held in Orlando, FL in December. The standings below include the results from events held through March 31, 2018.

electricity in the air was palpable! First up for us was our Jumpers with Weaves course. It was a nice, flowing course judged by Peter Liu. We ran near the end of the pack, giving us the opportunity to observe that many teams were getting an off-course entry into the tunnel. When it was our turn to run, I was so careful handling that section of the course that I mishandled another part and we ended up with one deduction. Our Standard run was not until the afternoon, which gave me some time to quiet my nerves, so when we went back in the ring we were ready and able to put together our first clean run of the day with a good time!

Sunday, the last day of the trial, arrived too quickly. My goal for the day was to run for a personal record and to enjoy every minute of that last run together at Nationals. The Hybrid course looked fast and fun and was judged by Susan Stephon. We were near the top of the running order so we only had a short wait before entering the ring. In less than a minute, we were done and had achieved our second clean run ribbon for Team Emma! I was delighted we had done well and sad that it was all over.

The grand finale of the NAC is Sunday afternoon when they hold the challenger rounds and then the finals. The arena was full of spectators and the atmosphere charged! All the dog and handler teams who had made it to the final rounds were incredible and amazing to watch. World Team members down to weekend warriors were competing for the coveted final prize of National Champion. Those who ultimately won at each jump height were well deserving of the achievement and accolades.

We left Reno proud of what we had accomplished at the National Agility Championship and inspired to try again in years to come!

UPDATES ON HEALTH

BCCA Health Committee and BeaCon

CEA TESTING

North America, 2017, sponsored by BCCA, BeaCon, and Beardies of the World Calendar Crew. Voluntary testing of breeding stock will help ensure that no affected dogs are produced.

- 178 – tested
- 88.8% - clear
- 11.2% - carriers
- 0 – affected
- SAMPLES NOT YET SUBMITTED - 7 dogs from 4 members that paid at nationals and took kits home last fall! Come on people, get your dog's DNA sample in and have the results.

BCCA OFA HEALTH SURVEY - ONGOING

- Purpose – provide anonymous reporting of health information
- Started – Feb 5, 2018
- # Participants – 87
- Selected stats
 - 60% living
 - Health Screening Testing
 - 38% OFA hip evaluation after 24 months; 6% other hip exam organization
 - 53% thyroid panel
 - 91% normal; 6.5% AI thyroiditis (higher than all Beardies with OFA thyroid panels – 1.1% of 905 dogs)
 - 40.2% eye exam for certification
 - 26% CEA test (2 carriers – 8.7%)
 - More frequent problems
 - 9% - cancer diagnosis
 - 7% - endocrine disorder
 - Surely there are more than 87 Beardies alive or deceased belonging to members of the BCCA! Consider participating – here is the survey link: https://www.ofa.org/about/educational-resources/health-surveys#api_summary

UK BEARDIE HEALTH DATA

From Liz Ayrton, Breed Health Coordinator for UK Kennel Club. In conjunction with the Joint Breed Liaison Committee (JBLC) which has 2 representatives from each UK Bearded Collie Club. Each February beginning in 2018

- Purpose – because Beardie registrations in 2016 fell below 300, the Kennel Club classified the breed as vulnerable. The JBLC decided to begin monitoring health data on an annual basis and to monitor trends and take action as needed.

- # Participants – 1132
- Selected stats
 - 99.5% living
 - Sex: 48% male; 52% female
 - Most common groups of conditions diagnosed in last 12 months
 - Musculoskeletal (62% arthritis – related to older age)
 - Skin
 - Eye, ear
 - Immune mediated disease (6.8% of all conditions): Addison's, autoimmune hemolytic anemia, and SLO, autoimmune thrombocytopenia, anal furunculosis
 - Total immune mediated diseases (these were early age onset, just as in BeaCon's open health registry population)
 - 23 – SLO

MEETING AND GREETING STOCK

Elsa Sell • beaconbb@bellsouth.net

How does your dog present itself to the stock? Said another way, what is the stock's response to the dog's presentation? Both are intertwined and strongly influence whatever comes after the initial meeting - whether you are working on a farm, training, doing an outrun or somewhere else on course. Photos taken from various sources. Not surprisingly, I don't have many photos of the non-peaceful presentation - either we don't take those photos, or we don't share. There is ample opportunity to study meeting and greeting styles at trials or training class.

PEACEFUL

NOT SO PEACEFUL

YOU DECIDE

HOW TO ACHIEVE A PEACEFUL GREETING

No doubt multiple methods are possible. As you search for one, seek sound theory behind the method. Beyond the theory, there is the application. What is it, do you understand, and can you implement it? Are the stock sufficiently workable (stay with a person if dog is right) to succeed when you know the theory and how to apply it? When all the pieces come together, you have the marvelous experience of an AHA moment – and hope it can be repeated. This topic applies primarily to dogs beyond introduction to stock.

If you already have an approach that works, you are invited to write me - beaconbb@bellsouth.net - about your approach (photos will be appreciated) – others will benefit from the shared experiences.

Until July, when we will look at one way to accomplish a peaceful meet and greet with the stock.

TREASURE HUNT

While not exactly on the topic of a peaceful meeting and greeting, it is Beardie related. Below is a photograph from the distant past of what is most likely a Beardie. It was on the cover of the June 1943 AKC Gazette. The back of the photograph has a stamp indicating it was part of the “Best of America” series, 1940. The photographer was Jack Breed who lived in Swampscott, MA and the photograph was for the AKC Gazette front cover. Who are the twins, who is the dog, where was the photograph taken? If you can answer those questions, I have some waterfront property for you in Arizona (seriously, I have a 1989 specialty keepsake or a print)! Remember that the first Bearded Collie registered in the UK was Jeannie of Bothkennar, born 1/12/1943; the earliest born Bearded Collie imported to the USA was Brand-X of Bothkennar, born 11/14/1961. So how was this dog in the USA????

The photograph is Courtesy of the AKC Library & Archives; the copyright holder is the photographer. ©Jack Breed, 1940
