NOTES FROM BEACON

BeaCon was incorporated 20 years ago (April 1999) for the purpose of learning about the frequency of health problems in the breed and to promote health education and research for the benefit of the Bearded Collie. An open health registry was created which has helped document of the most common problems, causes of and age at death, and reproductive outcome of the registry population (number is now 3061). As with any optional registry, a dog's owner or breeder makes the choice to participate or not; thus, it is uncertain if the findings are applicable to the breed population as a whole.

The percentage of new dogs entered in the open registry from the USA was highest (62%) in the first five years (01-05); it declined steadily to just 17% in 12-18. Are you satisfied with this? Yes or no or maybe?

If you question whether we could do better, here's food for thought from a breeder in another breed (with permission). "I want to do business with other owners who are "all in for the breed." To me, this means, besides guarding and monitoring the health of our own dogs, that we should be sharing all the information that we can. Yes, all, even when the information falls short of our aspirations. To me, when we decide to engage in producing that we will not ourselves own (now or downline), we are ipso facto turning a private decision into a public one, and the benefits of the common good prevail.

In other words, there is a point of dedication to the breed where disseminating health information overrides claims of "privacy." That is, dissemination of health information could be helpful, if not critical. How is it helpful?

One of the reasons our breed used to be of such interest to researchers was the amount of information in our health database. When there is less info, the interest decreases. That is a direct detriment to finding answers, and thus to our breed.

Another reason is that in the future, breeders will not be able to pick up the phone to ask about dogs and the traits they carried if the owners are deceased. A breeder could inadvertently double on a trait they would have avoided. Documentation in our health database overcomes that issue.

Finally, there is relevance for use of frozen semen if it is part of your breeding program. Given that frozen semen is precious and limited, information about dogs produced by that stud in the past can help confirm a good choice or avoid wasting that resource.

To summarize, disclosure of health information is a big part of the legacy each of us can leave, including non-breeders. To me, sharing any info we have in the health database is such a benefit to the breed that it supersedes any supposed motive for not doing so."

If any reader thinks they'd like to be part of the legacy for Bearded Collies, BeaCon offers you the opportunity to do so. Register (www.beaconforhealth.org/sqlweb) and enter your Beardies, alive or deceased, healthy or with a health or temperament problem. If working with online forms is unfamiliar and scary for you, BeaCon provides a useful guide on navigating the registry and how to enter and update information. Or contact me for support.

PASS BACKGROUND CHECK, WORK WEEKENDS AND HOLIDAYS

Do I have your attention now? The above notice at a store I visit regularly was a stimulus to think about how to locate volunteers for the BCCA herding committee. Among your herding committee's responsibilities are keeping stats on AKC herding, writing educational articles for the Bagpipes and Bulletin, calculating yearly BCCA herding awards, and reviewing member nominations for national specialty herding judges. Having representation from different parts of the country provides for broader knowledge of judges from most areas. Meetings are electronic as needed and every March.

The committee is seeking additional members to assist with the tasks of writing informative articles or helping with data entry and analysis (i.e., numbers geek). Why? To assure future continuity when those who have served for years must reduce their responsibilities. Volunteers will have guidance and support from experienced committee members. So, volunteer before the opportunity vanishes – it will add to your résumé and skill set in addition to doing a valuable service for fellow Beardie herders.

History of Keeping Herding Records. Beardie herding began with establishment of an instinct testing program in 1983, then expanded to the AKC herding program starting in 1990. Early on the records were kept on paper. In the early 90's instinct certification was moved to electronic format. Rosie Schroeder created a program with Filemaker Pro (Mac based); the herding instinct secretary used the system for Herding Instinct ROM awards and HIC certifications. The AKC test and trial data were maintained in paper form until 2010-11. Thereafter, all available paper records and the existing electronic instinct records were assimilated into the current program. See table below for complete timeline. AHBA and ASCA titles are also preserved in this database.

NOMINATIONS FOR 2020 NATIONAL SPECIALTY HERDING TRIAL JUDGES

As announced in the Jan 2019 Bagpipes, members are invited to nominate judges for the specialty trial. Send your nominations to me. Include your highest herding title along with judge(s) name (s) and reasons you recommend the individual(s). The deadline is March 15. After BCCA herding committee review, the list is sent to the specialty herding trial chair around March 30. A prospective judge's state of residence is not a consideration.

BCCA 2018 HERDING AWARDS

Congratulations to everyone out there training, walking those miles, trialing, and being successful. Some of the scores are unbelievable close - just a little calmer outrun, or straighter cross drive, or all stock through a panel – an award outcome might have been different. Three Beardies earned the first titles in AKC's new D course.

There was an amazing achievement record set in 2018 – six new Bearded Collie herding champions!

TOP HERDING DOG (THD) –

Average of 3 scores to obtain title for each level, course, and stock (started, intermediate, advanced) except for Masters. Masters - average of first 8 scores in a level/course/stock after regular title in that class; owners must submit documentation to AKC. Championship THD is determined by average of highest 3 scores with championship points.

Herding Dog of the Year (HDOTY)– title obtained in the year; average of 3 highest point count added to average of 3 scores associated with highest point counts - for levels (started, intermediate, advanced), course, and stock. Runs do not count if more than 60 days after title, except advanced when the title was achieved prior to the award year; then the qualifying runs must be in the award year. Otherwise, points/scores apply regardless of year obtained.

Dogs are arranged in order of placement in THD.

DECEMBER 2018 AKC DELEGATE REPORT

Kathy Coxwell • hattieboo@gmail.com

The Quarterly meeting of the American Kennel Club Delegate Body was held on December 13-14, 2018 at the Rosen Centre Hotel in Orlando, Florida. President Dennis Sprung, President, called the meeting to order at 10:30 a.m.

The Executive Secretary, Gina DiNardo, read the report on the Nominating Committee, and the report on additional nominations. There are three vacancies for the class of 2023. Nominees from the committee are Dr. Thomas Davies, Springfield Kennel Club. Dr. Charles Garvin, Dalmatian Club of America. Daniel J. Smyth, Esq., Burlington County Kennel Club.

Pursuant to Article VIII of the Bylaws of the American Kennel Club, the following Delegates have been endorsed in writing by the required number of Delegates as a Candidate for the vacancies on the Board of Directors for the Class of 2023:

Karen J. Burgess, Greater Clark County Kennel Club.
Steven Hamblin, Pekingese Club of America.

Each candidate was given three minutes to introduce themselves and explain their positions on bringing the AKC forward.

Following that presentation, these two clubs were admitted to membership in the AKC: Grand Basset Griffon Vendéen Club of America, and Lowchen Club of America.

VOTES

1. Chapter 14, Sections 12, 12A, 13, 13A and 11A Of the Field Trial Rules and Standard Procedures for Pointing Breeds: Sections 13 and 13A allow The American Brittany Club to hold a National Open Walking Dog Gun Championship, and a National Amateur Walking Gun Dog Championship. The additions to the other sections are needed to differentiate existing National Championship stakes from the two new ones. Proposed by the American Brittany Club and approved by the AKC Board.
Adopted.
