JUDGING THE 2019 NATIONAL AGILITY CHAMPIONSHIPS

Jeffrey Ipser

I became an AKC agility judge in 2006. This past November, I got the phone call, asking if I would judge the 2019 NAC in March 2019. I had to take some time to think before I answered.

Yes, it is an honor to judge this event. But did I want the pressure to judge three long days at such an important event to so many exhibitors. I decided I was up for the challenge and felt confident that I could judge at the level expected.

Six judges work the NAC. In addition to me, Alan Athur, Darryl Warren, Pam Johnson, Victoria MacVicar and Kathy Rudolph were the judges for 2019. Each judge was assigned a course to design. We were reminded to design a course that any judge would be able to judge. Each judge would need to judge the other judges' courses. The courses needed over the three days were:

Friday – Premier STD

Saturday – Master STD
(without table) and JWW

Sunday – Hybrid (STD
without a dog walk or table), Challengers and Finals

The judge of the Challengers and Finals round would design their courses. I was asked to design the Friday Premier Standard course in December. That meant as a first-time judge, I would not be judging the Challengers or Finals rounds. That brought a sense of relief.

I flew to Tulsa on the Thursday the day before it started. My flight had a connection in Atlanta. I was being picked up by a rep who asked that I text her when boarding my connection so that she knew when I would arrive. I texted her as I was boarding. My text said, "Boarding now. I must be on the correct flight since there are seven service dogs."

The 2019 NAC had over 1300 dogs entered. There was one bearded collie entered, Richard Masley with Szaffi. There were 332 border collies and 175 Shetland sheepdogs entered this year.

There was a judge's meeting with the reps Thursday afternoon before dinner. We went over what was expected of us while judging. If any obstacle was missed or not completed the run ended with a whistle and the score would be zero. Also teeter calls are the most often missed call. We were reminded that if the dog exits the teeter before it touches the ground, it's a flyoff and an F, regardless how close to the ground the flyoff happens.

Friday judging started with the warm up round. Every exhibitor gets 60 seconds to do what they want in the ring. Judges are just there for safety and to make sure teams leave on time. Judging the warm up is like judging FAST after the exhibitor faults the SEND. You have no idea where the teams are going. They just use up the 60 seconds training in the ring. The Premier STD course was run after warm ups. The Premier course was changed from what I had submitted, it was more difficult than the original design. I judged the 20" class which had well over 200 dogs.

Saturday started early. Judges had to be at the trial by 6:30AM and a briefing at 7AM. I was judging the 16" STD course followed by the 24" class. The 16" walk through consisted of six consecutive 10 minute walk throughs. That was one hour of walk throughs followed by all 16" dogs running. This meant that the last team ran the course 6-7 hours after they walked the course. There were about 330 dogs in the 16" class. After every 50 dogs, or about an hour, I had a five minute break; the problem was that it took two and a half minutes to walk to the restroom! I got back just in time to resume judging. It left no time to eat anything. I quickly learned to eat a piece of fruit while walking to the restroom during the five minute break. After six hours of judging the 16" class, the 24" class walked and I then started judging the 125 dogs in that class. Exhibitors worked all year to get to the NAC. They expect your judging to be at a high level if they are the first dog, 450th dog or any dog in between. As a judge you need to remain focused for every dog and make the calls.

Sunday started even earlier than Saturday as we had both the Challengers and Finals rounds to run. The alarm was set for 4:30AM. Walk throughs started at 6:15 AM. No time for breakfast and nothing was open anyway. I was judging the four to eight inch class with over 300 dogs. I completed my judging about 2:30PM. I went to the hospitality room to grab some lunch. I found out lunch was removed at 1:30 by the caterer.

Both the Challengers and Finals courses used two judges. One in the ring and the other sitting at the exit of the dog walk to watch the contact. Alan and Darryl judged these two classes. The remaining four judges were asked to sit ring side while these courses were run. After Finals, Darryl and Alan took pictures with the winning teams. Since Darryl, Alan and I shared a car, I had to wait for them. The end of a long day finally arrived. Now time to get dinner. It was now 9:30 Sunday night in Tulsa. The three of us walked into Whataburger at 9:45 that night to eat our first meal of the day.

It was a very long and exhausting weekend. It's hard on the exhibitors, judges and especially the reps. The reps arrived on Monday to start preparing for the NAC. Their days were even longer than the judges' or exhibitors'. The reps were at the trial before anyone arrived in the morning and the last to leave at night. There is a lot of work that goes on behind the scenes to make this event something for all to remember. Thank a rep the next time you see one at a trial.

AGILITY NEWS INVITATIONAL STANDINGS

Cheri Omnus, Libby Myers Buhite, Joanne Williamson

We are now three quarters of the way through the invitational competition year which will end on June 30, 2019. The top 5 Beardies in the regular standings will receive first round invitations to compete in Orlando in December. The top Beadie running in the preferred classes will also receive an invitation. Best of luck to all in the final quarter!
