THE VALUE OF LOOKING BACK BEFORE TRYING TO MOVE FORWARD, HUNTING FOR FOUNDERS

Joanne Williamson • balgrae@ix.netcom.com

When the collaboration with Embark was announced, I decided I would submit samples for analysis from all my current Beardies. In order to have a better understanding of the results, especially the COI (coefficient of inbreeding), I would be receiving, I did some pedigree analyses on all my dogs. This work reminded me again that the breed as we know it today is based on a limited number of founders. In order to keep the relationship of the early Beardies straight, I found it useful to make a graphic representation of some of the foundation breeding done in the UK in the 1950's-1970's. This is shown in the accompanying figure. I know it looks very complicated! In part this is intentional because I wanted to highlight the complex family relationships between these early Beardies. Making (and remaking!) this figure gave me some insights into the early breeding programs that I had never had before.

In his 2017 genetic diversity report for Beacon based on an analysis of the AKC Bearded Collie Stud Book (beaconforhealth.org), Dr Jerold Bell highlighted the overwhelming influence of Bailie Of Bothkennar (and by extension, Baile's sire, founder Dandy) on the modern Bearded Collie. This influence is entirely due to a small number of progeny from three litters that were selected to carry on characteristics unique to Bearded Collies. They were used as the foundation of several breeding programs.

Bailie was first bred to Jeannie Of Bothkennar in 1950 and produced 6 puppies, four of which (Buskie, Bravado, Bogle and Bruce) would go on to produce their own influential offspring. For his second litter in 1951, Bailie was bred to another bitch of working origins, Bess Of Bothkennar, and produced Briery Nan Of Bothkennar, who would become the dam of the influential Ridgeway Rob when bred to founder, Newtown Blackie. For Bailie's third litter, born in 1952, he was bred to his daughter Buskie, resulting in a fawn bitch, Bra'tawny Of Bothkennar, whose multiple matings with Ridgeway Rob, produced five puppies of great importance for the subsequent development of the breed: Bannoch, Baidh, Bawbee Of Bothkennar, Willowmead Barberry Of Bothkennar and Wishanger Barley Of Bothkennar.

Bailie's son from Jeannie, Bogle, was also bred to Bess Of Bothkennar, resulting in a daughter, Bond Of Bothkennar. Bond would go on to produce Bobby Of Bothkennar, by a working Beardie, Mirk, and Blue Bonnie Of Bothkennar, by the Rob ex Bra'tawny son, Bannoch.

When Bailie's second son from Jeannie, Bravado, was bred to the Rob ex Bra'tawny daughter, Baidh, another influential daughter, Beauty Queen Of Bothkennar, resulted. Bra'tawny was also bred to Britt Of Bothkennar and produced a son, Balachan Of Bothkennar.

Bailie's final son from Jeannie, Bruce, was bred to the founder, Jennifer Of Multan resulting in a daughter, Bronze Penny Of Bothkennar, and the only male descendant of Bailie with modern progeny, Johnscope Of Swalehall.

Bronze Penny was bred to the Britt ex Bra'tawny son, Balachan, resulting in Blimber Of Bothkennar. Blimber was subsequently bred to Beauty Queen and their son Bravo Of Bothkennar sired the famous Osmart Bonnie Blue Braid out of the Bond ex Bannoch daughter, Blue Bonnie Of Bothkennar.

You can follow these breedings more easily in the diagram. I had one of my ah-ha moments when I realized that Osmart Bonnie Blue Braid, born in 1965 and a popular sire of the late 1960's and early 1970's, who appears in many modern pedigrees, was the culmination of the blending of offspring from all four of the original Bailie ex Jeannie litter and almost every important founder and influential ancestor identified by Dr Bell in his report.

It should come as no great surprise that the influence of these individuals has been maintained through the decades. My second ah-ah moment came with the realization that Bailie is an influential foundation sire primarily through his daughters. This suggests the Y-chromosome of most modern Bearded Collies comes not from Bailie but from founder Newtown Blackie through his son, Ridgeway Rob.

While doing pedigree research on my new puppy Truman, I found it interesting to identify as many founders (as defined by Dr Bell: dogs of unknown parentage used in the development of the breed) as I could. In addition to the "major" founders, those related to Bailie, Jeannie, Bess and Britt, as well as Newtown Blackie and Jennifer Of Multan, I found several others who may not occur in every Beardie, but still exist today, at least in Truman and others of specific lines. What follows is a guide to the founders; key ancestors to look for in your own pedigrees that indicate a particular founder lies behind your dogs as well. This guide can save you some time as, to find all of Truman's founder ancestors, I had to go back 13 generations, to his 11th great grandparents. This involved searching out 16,382 ancestors, a time-consuming task unless you have own complete relational database.

Founder	Names to look for in your pedigrees
Dandy	Bailie Of Bothkennar
Dirk	Jeannie Of Bothkennar
Shaggy	Jeannie Of Bothkennar
Mist	Jeannie Of Bothkennar
Don	Bess Of Bothkennar
Lassie	Bess Of Bothkennar
Baldi	Bess Of Bothkennar
Meg	Bess Of Bothkennar
Jock	Britt Of Bothkennar
Mootie	Britt Of Bothkennar
Sweep	Mirk (Bobby Of Bothkennar)
Tess	Mirk (Bobby Of Bothkennar)
Newtown Blackie	Ridgeway Rob, Bremhill Betty, Peter II, Workway Drover
Jennifer Of Multan	Wishanger Jessica Of Multan, Bronze Penny Of Bothkennar, Johnscope Of Swalehall, Wishanger Wysteria
Brasenose Bonnie	Brasenose Annabelle, Cannamoore Bailie, Westernisles Wishanger Beechmast, Calasona Westernisles Loch Aber, Davealex Royle Baron, Dacelaex Royle Brigadier
Lassie (Mister)	May or may not be different from Bess' ancestor! Sweetheart Of Willowmead, Sheuna Of The Mote, Ruairidh Of Willowmead,
Coleen, John IL, Heather	Basant Of Bothkennar, Burdock Of Tambora, Edelweiss Of Tambora, Willowmead Juno Of Tambora, Brambledale Heathermead Moonlight, Brambledale Balthazar
Kitty Norton of Swalehall	Swalehall Fiona, Swalehall Marthascope, Beagold Ella, Lincalder Border Bonnie, Lincalder Wild Thyme At Chriscaro
Shaggy	A different one from Jeannie's ancestor! Bredon Mist, Bredon Quarry, Sallen Queenie, Marksman Of Sunbree, Barnleigh Damaris
Shaggy From Thornby	Shaggy Faith Of Wishanger, Sallen My Honey, Sallen Nancy

Founder	Names to look for in your pedigrees
Craig, Fly	Tuftine Brigadier, Wishanger Bridge Of Gaur, Beagold Pennyroyal, Bunny Of Beagold (mostly in German lines)
Osmart Black Eyed Susie	Osmart Bracken Brown, Bronze Willow From Osmart At Orora, Orora's Herb Robert, Orora's Huckleberry

Among the 464 unique individuals in his 13-generation pedigree, Truman had all the major founders. In addition, I also identified a few occurrences of Kitty Norton Of Swalehall, Shaggy (via Bredon Mist), Tuftine Brigadier (Craig, Fly), and Osmart Black Eyed Susie.

Included in Truman's "top ten" ancestors are:

Total # of Times found In 13-generations

Wishanger Cairnbhan	604
Bra'twany Of Bothkennar	447
Bravo Of Bothkennar	438
Wishanger Barley Of Bothkennar	434
Ridgeway Rob	427
Blue Bonnie Of Bothkennar	409
Willowmead My Honey	401
Ruairidh Of Willowmead	387
Osmart Bonnie Blue Braid	382
Will O' Wisp Of Willowmead	379

For a dog born in 2019, some of Truman's pedigree is "old." By that I mean founders and/or influential ancestors appear in small numbers as early as his 10th generation ancestors (or 8th 8GGP), the majority of whom were born in the 1960s-1970's. The number of occurrences of founders increases markedly in generations 11-13. To search out ancestors "by hand" beyond 13 generations is a task best accomplished by computer unless you have hundreds of hours to devote to this task. The 14th generation alone would have 16,384 names, as many as were in generations 1-13 altogether. I'm persistent but not that persistent!

Ella Sell kindly used a computer resource, PedScope, to extend my search on Truman.

	# occurrences 13 gen hand calculated	# occurrences 14 gen computer calculated	# occurrences all gen computer calculated
Wishanger Cairnbhan	604	862	2051
Bra'twany Of Bothkennar	447	1247	24106
Bravo Of Bothkennar	438	674	1044
Wishanger Barley Of Bothkennar	434	854	3932
Ridgeway Rob	427	1166	21389
Blue Bonnie Of Bothkennar	409	600	1516

Ruairidh Of Willowmead	387	720	2221
Osmart Bonnie Blue Braid	382	476	843
Will O' Wisp Of Willowmead	379	803	4878

This program can also compute the %blood represented by a particular ancestor which gives a more complete picture of how influential some of the earliest Beardies remain today:

% BLOOD BY HIGHEST # OCCASIONS IN TRUMAN'S PEDIGREE

Dog	# occasions (40 gen)	% blood
Bailie of Bothkennar	86523	33%
Bra'Tawny of Bothkennar	24106	25%
Dandy	86523	16%
Jeannie of Bothkennar	54548	14%
Bess of Bothkennar	30305	13%

Dog	# occasions (40 gen)	% blood
Buskie of Bothkennar	24106	12%
Baffler	54548	7%
Mist	54548	7%
Bett	30305	6%
Bobby	30305	6%
Lassie	32544	5%
Dirk	54548	3%
Shaggy (not Thornby, not Aberdeen)	54548	3%
Baldie	30305	3%
Don	30305	3%
Meg (worker)	30305	3%

Given these results, it came as no surprise that Truman's COI was found to be 30% by Embark even though his first four generations are all entirely unique individuals.

The past use of extensive line breeding and inbreeding to fix type has an impact we feel today on the diversity of ancestors in our pedigrees. It is worth stating that this phenomenon is true in all purebred dogs to one degree or another. Beardies are not unique in this respect. Since nearly all the foundation stock for the world-wide Beardie population came from the UK, we all have a similar problem when the question of diversity is raised. Whether there is one specific area, or more than one area, where a lack of diversity is harmful to the long term health and well being of the Bearded Collie is the subject of much current discussion and research but as yet there are no definitive conclusions.

Note: I made extensive use of bcpedigree.se to obtain the data in this essay. Many thanks are due to Irena Fransson for compiling and maintaining this important resource for all of us in the Beardie community. Thanks are also due to Elsa Sell for reading and commenting on a draft and providing the PedScope data.

DIGRAM LEGEND

Founders and influential ancestors are in black bold type. When the name of a particular Beardie is repeated in the figure in order to facilitate showing family relationships, the name is colored. This also helps to illustrate the blending of founder lines. Note Bobby Of Bothkennar (in blue) and his great grandson Ruairidh of Willowmead (in green) on the left side of the figure, go back to the Bailie ex Jeannie son, Bogle, though Bond Of Bothkennar. An important blending of the Bobby and Ruairidh lines is shown on the right side of the figure as it goes back through another of the Bailie ex Jeannie sons, Bravado that produced the Broadholme line of bitches and Braelyn Broadholme Crofter.

RESEARCH UPDATE

Elsa Sell • beaconbb@bellsouth.net

Genome Wide Analysis (GWA) research on SLO and Addison's in the Bearded Collie is funded in part by BCCA and BeaCon for Health. Read the entire report on pp 6-7.

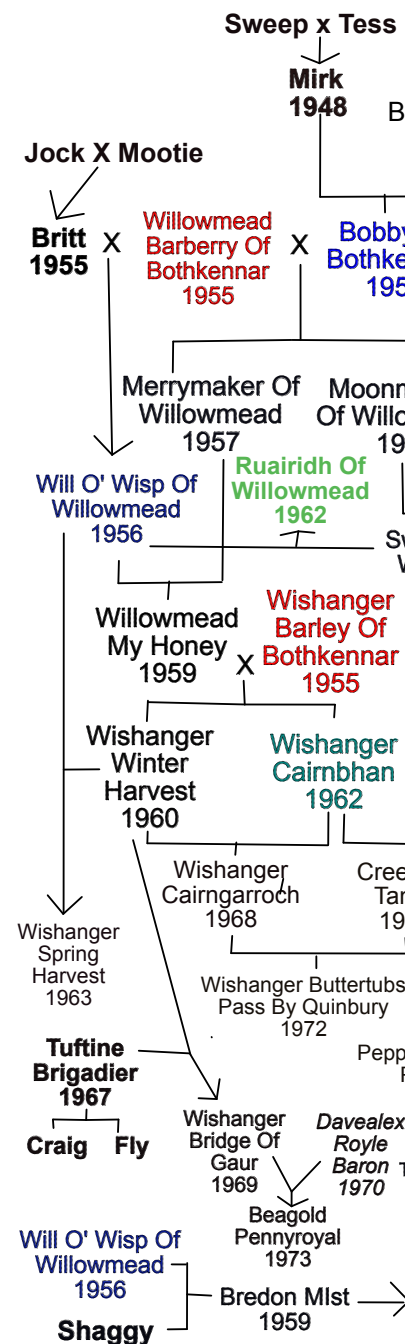

In essence, the findings are

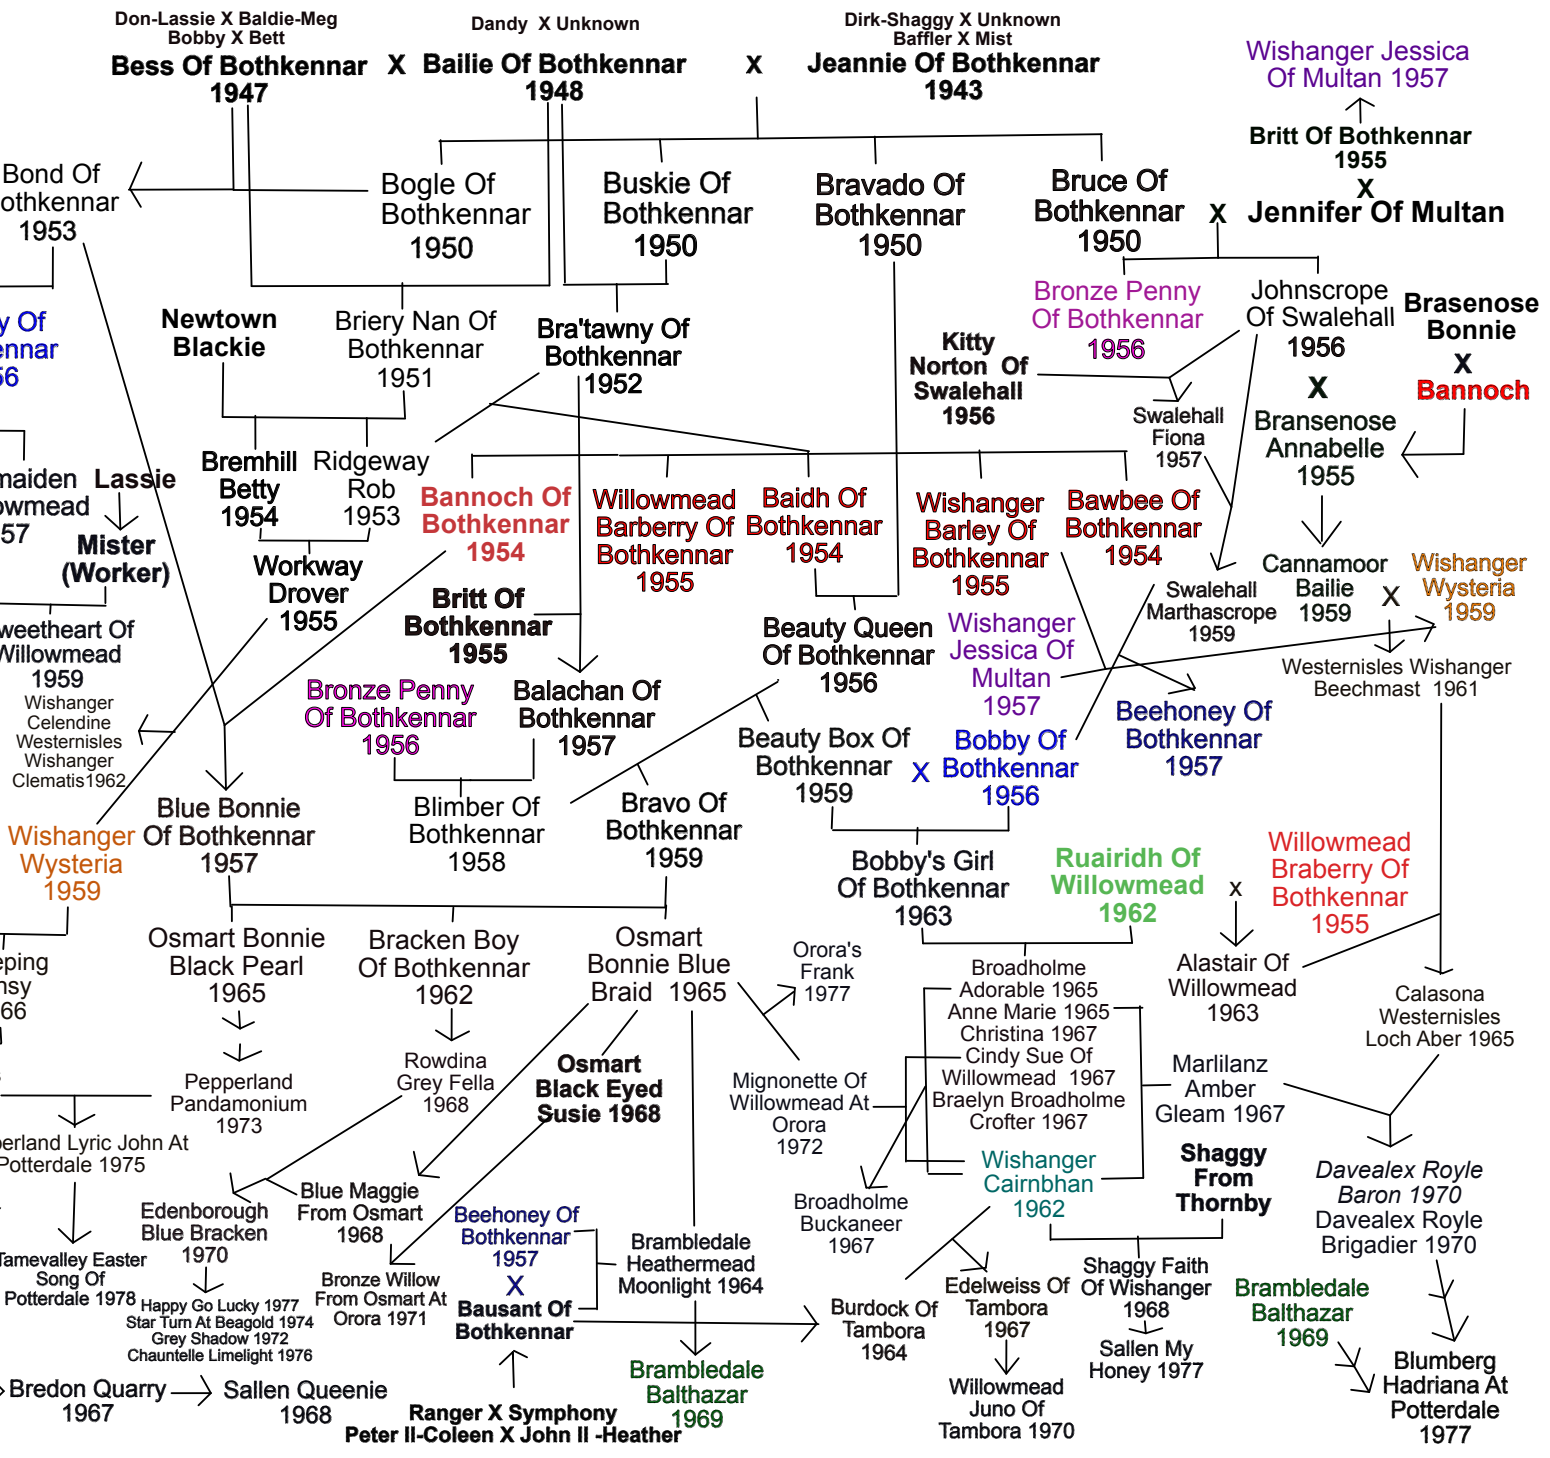

1) GWA analysis for SLO revealed genome-wide significant peaks on CFAs (chromosomes) 12 and 17; the region of association on CFA12 harbors the DLA class II genes for which we have already determined an association (Gershony et al. 2019). Promising candidate genes were identified in both regions of association, and data for SLO and healthy controls is currently under analysis.

2) A similar approach was used for AD. Initial GWAS done on 103 unrelated dogs (41 cases, 62 controls) showed a single genome-wide significant peak; additional data analysis revealed two other regions of association on two different chromosomes all of which contain potential candidate genes involved in immune function and regulation. Dogs carrying multiple risk genotypes across these regions are at greater risk of AD.

Analysis of whole genome sequencing (WGS) is underway to identify actual mutations that contribute to disease development in these dogs. Regions of association identified in GWA will be prioritized, followed by exploration of the entire genome. Samples from 21 Bearded Collies (6 AD, 6 SLO and 9 controls) have been submitted for WGS and variant data obtained.

SAMPLES STILL NEEDED – 2 Addisonian, 2 healthy controls (10 years or older). Do your part; donate DNA if your Beardie is eligible. Contact Liz Gershony today for details about how to submit a sample (Liza.Crissiuma.Gershony@ucdavis.edu)

RESEARCH PROGRESS REPORT SUMMARY

Grant 02488: Addison's Disease and Symmetrical Lupoid Onychodystrophy in Bearded Collies Provide Common Ground for Identifying Susceptibility Loci Underlying Canine Autoimmune Disorders

Grant Amount: $118,458
Start Date: 5/1/2018 End Date: 4/30/2020

Original Project Description:

Hypoadrenocorticism or Addison's disease (AD) is a life-threatening condition that afflicts multiple dog breeds and results from autoimmune destruction of the adrenal glands. Similarly, another canine autoimmune condition that causes pain and suffering is Symmetrical Lupoid Onychodystrophy (SLO). Both AD and SLO are postulated to be complexly inherited and preliminary data suggest a common set of susceptibility genes working in concert with additional genes that determine expression of either disease. For the study of AD and SLO the investigators will focus on the Bearded Collie breed due to its relatively high prevalence of both conditions and a genomic structure favorable for identifying variations in the DNA. The investigators will scan the entire canine genome using genetic markers coupled with whole genome sequencing to identify chromosomal regions that harbor genetic changes contributing to disease manifestation. The disease risk conferred by each of these genetic variants, or quantitative trait loci (QTL), will then be calculated to develop a tool for selecting sires and dams early in life, thereby allowing breeders to choose mating pairs that will produce offspring with a low likelihood of developing AD and SLO.

Report to Grant Sponsor from Investigator:

Hypoadrenocorticism or Addison’s disease (AD) is a life-threatening condition that afflicts multiple dog breeds and results from autoimmune destruction of the adrenal glands. Similarly, another canine autoimmune condition that causes pain and suffering is Symmetrical Lupoid Onychodystrophy (SLO). Both AD and SLO are postulated to be complexly inherited and our preliminary data suggest a common set of susceptibility genes working in concert with additional genes that determines expression of either disease. For the study of AD and SLO we are investigating the Bearded Collie breed due to its relatively high prevalence of both conditions and a genomic structure favorable for identifying variations in the DNA. All SLO, AD and control Bearded Collie samples proposed in the grant for genotyping and genome-wide association (GWA) analyses have been collected and processed. After removing closely related dogs from the dataset, GWA analysis for SLO revealed genome-wide significant peaks on CFAs 12 and 17; the region of association on CFA12 harbors the DLA class II genes for which we have already determined an association (Gershony et al. 2019). When considering only dogs that carried DLA class II SLO risk haplotypes and the region on CFA 17 was more strongly associated. Promising candidate genes were identified in both regions of association, and WGS data for SLO and healthy controls is currently under analysis. A similar approach was used for AD. Initial GWAS done on 103 unrelated dogs (41 cases, 62 controls) showed a single genome-wide significant peak; additional data analysis revealed two other regions of association on two different chromosomes all of which contain potential candidate genes involved in immune function and regulation. Dogs carrying multiple risk genotypes across these regions are at greater risk of AD. Two manuscripts have now been published as a result of this study and a third manuscript is under preparation to be submitted for publication by the end of the year. Analysis of whole genome sequencing (WGS) is underway to identify actual mutations that contribute to disease development in these dogs. Regions of association identified in GWAS will be prioritized, followed by exploration of the entire genome. Samples from 21 Bearded Collies (6 AD, 6 SLO and 9 controls) have been submitted for WGS and variant data obtained. One additional blood sample has been received from a healthy control and DNA has been extracted and properly stored. The remaining 2 AD and 2 control samples needed to meet the numbers stated in the grant are actively being recruited with assistance of the Bearded Collie breed club. We deeply appreciate the continued assistance of the breed club and owners in our studies.

HERDING

Elsa Sell • beaconbb@bellsouth.net

THIRD QUARTER AKC TRIAL ACTIVITY

Twenty Beardies were very busy with 68 qualifying runs over the range of stock (cattle, ducks, sheep); courses A, B and D; and levels (started, intermediate, and advanced). Titles earned are reference in the titles report elsewhere. Remember to check your dog's records in AKC so assure titles are being recorded correctly.

2019 BCCA YEARLY HERDING AWARDS

These will be calculated after the 4th quarter report is received in later January so likely the listing will be in the March Bagpipes.

SOLAR FARM

When you first see those words, what comes to mind? A green energy source? Lots of space with lots of solar panels? Livestock? The photo (left) with sheep is from NC State University College of Agriculture and Environmental Sciences.

A Georgia EMC (Electric Membership Coop) in Covington, GA is among the first in the state that uses a resident flock of sheep to maintain its 13-acre cooperative solar facility. Sheep use began spring 2019. Sheep were chosen rather than other grazing livestock because they do not climb on the panels or rub against them or chew on wiring (goats climb; cattle at least mouth/chew and rub against things). Livestock are a green alternative to use of chemicals or mowing with internal combustion equipment. The EMC's goal is to have around 50 Katahdin ewes (hair sheep not needing shearing; suited to our Georgia climate). Caregivers are from a nearby career academy and EMC employees.

THOUGHT FOR THE MONTH

Don't concentrate so much on training your dog that you miss what they can teach you. Remember it is so often that the human partner of a herding team is the one in need of the most training.

AGILITY

David Williamson

The 2020 BCCA National agility trials will be held Sunday, September 27 & Monday, September 28, 2020 at the Purina Event Center, Gray Summit, MO. The trials will be indoors on soccer turf, utilizing two rinds and offering Standard, Jumpers, FAST and T2B for Novice through Masters levels, including Preferred.

After the end of the trial on Sunday, the BAD dinner will offer the chance to relax and mull over the day's activities while enjoying a meal with friends right there at Purina, making it easy for everyone to attend.

At the conclusion of Monday's trial, the ever-fun relay will feature teams of handlers and their Beardies. This is always a lot of fun!

The judge for both days will be Lisa Potts from Springfield, Illinois. Cheri Omnus repeats her good work as trial chair as does David Williamson as trial secretary.

Entries will open on July 22nd and close on August 19th with the premium becoming available in June.

If you have any questions, please email Cheri Omnus, Agility Chair, at cheri_omnus@msn.com.

Licking Loneliness

2018 Andrew Award Winner

Sandy Dubin & Reese

*Pet Therapy Volunteer since 1999
and Pet Partner Instructor*

How sweet that Reese and I were awarded the Andrew Award. Reese passed his Pet Partner Therapy test at the young age of 1. He's my 5th therapy beardedie. He was picked out of the litter by his breeder for me and for therapy. His temperament is perfect. He enjoys the hospitals as do I. He also was invited to ride along in the captain's car up to the Base Camp of the Thomas fires in Ventura county, where over 3,000 firefighters called home for a few weeks. One of the captains also owned a beardedie from Northern California. I had these fire fighting cards made up with Reese all decked out beforehand, so it was just perfect for this occasion. The firefighters had been away from their families and dogs for a long time and they just loved the visit from the therapy dogs that were never allowed to a base camp until that time.

Reese enjoys just about any therapy job, and he's become registered to do crisis response, but his hardest event is the READ program because there can be up to 7 other dogs in the room and he wants to play with them all. So that takes him a little bit to settle in. He's a dog that wants to please, but also loves giving out love with a heart as big as my "Whiskey."

The Andrew Award means a lot to me because it reminds me of when I got a call from Pat McDonald asking me (and the therapy committee) to make a place for a therapy award in honor of Andrew, the infamous conformation dog, that I had the pleasure to meet at the first Beardie Camp. Thank you, Pat McDonald and thank you, Pat Palozzola, for breeding such a sweet, wonderful boy.
