From the Editor

My appreciation goes to all of the advertisers in the January, '85 issue of THE BULLETIN. Despite the delay necessitated by matters outside the control of the magazine, only one advertisement was canceled. All advertisers are to be commended for their loyalty to the breed and THE BULLETIN. A big thank you is in order from all those who look forward to receiving the magazine.

With this year's National Specialty being held in early July, the deadline for the next issue of THE BULLETIN will be extended to August 1st to allow for coverage of the Specialty events and photos of the winners to be included in that issue. Mailing date will be August 31.

Those wishing to advertise in the final issue of this calendar year should submit their copy by October 1 for mailing by October 31.

Remember, mailing labels for THE BULLETIN and the monthly newsletter are prepared by Karen Simcoe and then forwarded to me monthly. All changes of address should be sent to BCCA Treasurer, Sue Glatzer, 10 Eden Drive, Smithtown, New York 11787.

From the President

I think it's fair to say that the last two years must rank among the most turbulent in the BCCA's 16-year history. In spite of its well-publicized internal and external squabbles, the BCCA continues and, certainly on some levels, even prospers. It is perhaps too easy to overlook many of the club's positive, but less-publicized accomplishments. For instance, the Board's establishment of a herding committee and the resultant highly successful herding certification program is a major milestone for the breed. Both HC awards and the new ROMI (Register of Merit for Herding Instinct) awards, administered by this committee, represent a giant step in the right direction toward maintaining and recognizing the breed's unique working abilities. The long-overdue rescue program is still in its infancy, but judging from the early enthusiastic and supportive response, it seems another major step.

Communications with local clubs has been improved by the initiation of the local club liason program utilizing regional contact people, and proposed motions for upcoming Board meetings are now being regularly sent to all local club secretaries to enhance their ability to participate more directly on a national level.

In the past two years, after establishing and approving the divisional setup for rotating the national specialty locations, the Club has held two highly successful specialties, both moneymakers, and has developed and instituted both a show guidelines manual and a supported show policy, providing trophies for best of breed and high scoring Beardie with a qualifying score in the regular obedience classes at two shows a year.

Additional items have been added to resale—including notepads and cards; two yearbooks have been put out; the JAMES BEARDIE COOKBOOK was published, all money-making items for the club, in addition to being simply nice items to own.

My hope for the BCCA's future is that the next few years will bring less controversy, and more commitment to the positive goals of communication and education. I know that some club members have been left at least temporarily drained and disillusioned by the seeming ineffectiveness of bureaucracy and its dictates. Happily, I also know that by and large the BCCA is blessed with an above-average pool of renewable human resources in its membership—certainly more than enough to help shore up any flagging spirits around.

As outgoing BCCA president, however, I want to caution you all about one thing I feel particularly strongly about: this is NOT a chicken-and-the-egg situation—the BCCA exists to serve the breed, NOT the other way around. To lose sight of this simple fact is to lose sight of what our real priorities should be—the dogs themselves and working toward preserving the integrity of what we can ALL agree to is a splendid and very special breed.

Thanks to all who have been so supportive of me personally, and of the outgoing Board in general. Let's ALL work toward making the next year a banner one for Beardies...and the BCCA.

Best wishes to you all.

Cynthia

To the Editor

Bulletin Editor
To the BCCA Membership:

The response of our membership to the Beardie Rescue Effort has been overwhelming! Almost every person sending in dues for 1985-86 has been including a contribution to the Rescue Fund, with some contributions running as high as $10, $20, even $30. But whether large, or small as suggested, each donation will help a Beardie in need.

Clearly, the members of the BCCA are making a significant statement: "We care about our breed. We care enough to reach beyond our own Beardies to offer help to Beardies victimized by negligent owners and/or irresponsible breeders."

Also of interest, some wonderful notes are coming in with these contributions, wishing the Network success and offering to help in some way. For example, one member offered her professional grooming services to "spruce up" (shampoo, detangle, etc.) any abandoned Beardie so that he might look his best for any potential new family.

Some members are also indicating their willingness to take in a Beardie on a "foster home" basis until a permanent place can be found. These offers are most welcome, as the Network does need more temporary shelters—private homes and cooperating kennels—in most all regions. Can you help in this way?

This issue of the Bulletin carries a special supplement describing how the Rescue Network is organized and how it will work. Please read it carefully, and contact your regional coordinator if you have any suggestions or offers of help.

Sincerely-
Paul Glatzer, National Coordinator
BCCA Rescue

Dear Editor,

What a pleasure it was to read the last Beardedie Bulletin and see all those ads proudly displaying their dogs H.C. (Herding Certified) titles! We have come such a long way! I recall that when we started up the herding program there were a few "naysayers" who took us to task for printing up 500 herding certificates! They thought we'd never give out that many in the next 100 years. Here we are, and over 100 Beardies (and more every month) have been certified - it won't be long before we have to print more!

I'm very pleased and proud of the many, many Beardedie owners who love and care about the breed enough to get behind the Herding Program and preserve our Beardies as they always have been - a great herding dog. Looking through the Bulletin and seeing all those beautiful Beardies who have looks, brains and ability really warms my heart. I can't wait to see our Beardies in another ten years - with attention paid to breeding for these total dogs they should be something to behold!

Best Wishes,
Mari Taggart

FORWARD...taking your dog with you

Kandy Robinson here again and it's just about the end of our 1984 year. It sure has been an exciting obedience year, especially for those of us who have put on new titles. There have been 28 C.D.'s, 4 C.D.X.'s, and 2 U.D.'s in this year so far. In this report I will have almost all the statistics for this year; if you have any additions or corrections to the list PLEASE write or call me and I will correct or add the information for the next Bulletin.

This has been a very busy time period for me as I have tried to accumulate all the obedience titled Beardies and their dates of titles for publication. I have received a few letters from you obedience "strong-hearts" and I appreciate your support. The rest of the information came through researching years of Gazettes, 1974 to March 1985. Well, the list is compiled and will hopefully be published in the 1984 year-book. Again, if your dog's titles was inadvertently left out PLEASE write or call me, and again, I will correct the error.

One thing all this research has done is clear up A.K.C. and me about an "exclusive" Utility dog. I have reported in two other Bulletins a dog, "Beardedie" named Saurie Scamper, U. D. who has been listed in two Gazettes as a "Beardedie" with several high scores in Utility and Open and who was leading our Open and Utility statistics for this year. To make a long story short, the A.K.C. and I now agree that the Saurie Scamper, U. D. is NOT a "Beardedie" but a Border Collie, incorrectly entered for several shows. (Did I hear a few sighs of relief from the South and West????) So I apologize for anyone put behind this dog, however, this time we all move UP.

The last issue, I promised that I would explain another of the obedience scoring systems this time and it's the "doozie". It's called the Shuman System and is used only to rate Open and Utility dogs. The points are accumulated by assigning a point value to a range of qualifying scores in Open and Utility. The system is as follows:

Score	Points
200 -----	8
198-199.5 -----	7
195-197.5 -----	6
190-194.5 -----	5
185-189.5 -----	4
180-184.5 -----	3

175-179.5 ----- 2
170-174.5 ----- 1

As you can see the more consistently the dog qualifies, the more points he accumulates. This system gives a fair rating to the higher degree dog in his own breed who may not be "a flashy exact" dog, but one who can compete and consistently qualify.

In conclusion I have a mixed note to add. I would like to congratulate Joan Blumire and Ch. Beagold's Black Tiffany, U.D. on acquiring that exclusive Utility title. I understand that Joan feels that this was Tiffany's final gift to her as Tiffany passed away shortly after. Congratulations for a job well done to Joan and her gone, but not ever forgotten, "special" Beardie!!!!

Happy Heeling!!!

In The Good Old Summer Time!!!

Along with thoughts of outdoor summer shows, one should also think about our dogs' safety at these shows. Many of us camp for the week-end at shows.

I have had it happen that the gates are locked at midnight and not reopened til about 6:00 a.m., and no one is to be found in between to open them. What, then, does one do when a dog becomes sick during these times? Short of driving through these locked gates, what can a person do? What sort of things should a person carry in a "Doggie First Aid Kit"?

With this in mind, and knowing the vet was due for the yearly heartworm check of the clan, I asked my vet, Dr. F. J. McLaughlin of the Waterford Veterinary Hospital in Pontiac, Mi., for help and found him most willing and helpful. Between us, we suggest the following to be included in a waterproof container:

1. Scissors & tweezers.
2. Porous adhesive tape.
3. Roll gauze bandaging (for pressure bandage or dressing).
4. Cotton balls (cleaning ears, irrigating eyes, cleaning wounds).
5. Eye wash - Boric Acid- (for flushing irritated eyes or washing away foreign bodies from eyes-lids).
6. Thermometer (Normal temperature is 101-102 degrees. Don't forget to shake it down....leave in 45 sec.)
7. Pepto Bismol-liquid...1 Tbl. spoon per 20# - 3 times/ day. (I have used the Pepto tablets following the adult dosage for a 50# dog. Good for vomiting/diarrhea.)
8. Kaopectate- Canine preferred, but human can be used. For diarrhea.
9. Mycitracin- Over the counter triple antibiotic ointment for abrasions and cuts.
10. Antibiotics- I like to travel with Tetracycline and Ampicillin....do not use except on advice of vet. If you do find yourself "fenced in" at a show some night, there is usually a phone to call for veterinarian advice. Not a bad idea to check on location of phones during daylight hours.

With the thought of summer shows also comes the thought of possible heat stroke. Dr. McLaughlin offers this advice:

Panting is a normal response to heat to help dogs maintain a steady body temperature. However, if heat stroke develops, panting will become more deliberate, gums become reddened and an increased heart rate is noticed. Rectal temperatures in excess of 105-107 degrees are frequently seen.

To prevent heat stroke when the outdoor temperatures rise, keep plenty of fresh water available at all times, insure adequate ventilation and shade for your animals. Avoid overcrowding, excitement and exercise. Never leave your dog in a closed car or van with the windows just open for air!!!!!!

Treatment for heat stroke should be initiated quickly and is directed toward lowering the body temperature. Submerge the patient in a tub of cold or iced water until the dog's temperature is down to 103 degrees. Don't overcool! Hosing the dog off will work fine if a tub isn't available. Wet towels will work much slower, but can be effective if the condition is caught early. Quick efforts will usually lead to successful reversal of the symptoms, but occasionally complications arise which require veterinary medical attention.

Electrolyte imbalances, brain swelling and/or disseminated intravascular coagulation occur in severe cases and proper medical treatment is needed immediately; but remember, recognizing the early symptoms and treating quickly will avoid any of these complications.

It would be a good idea to cut out and tape the above section on heat stroke in your grooming box. Also be sure you have towels available and cooler, well stocked with ice for your favorite beverages, could someday do a double duty and save a canine life. Another bit of advice is to spray the belly area on your dogs before you go in the ring, particularly between the back legs, with cool water.

Remember, when you put your dog in the crate in the shade of a tree, that shade can rapidly disappear. I have hit upon a fiberglass type netting, similar to what they use in Florida for green houses, to cover crates at a show and in the car while travelling. It is very porous and allows good air circulation, yet blocks out the sun very well. It comes in rolls and is five feet wide. I also use it to cover my kennel runs at home. I sewed seatbelt type material on the ends to prevent ravelling and fastened it to the chain link by means of the spring type holders one uses to keep an ironing board cover in place. An S type hook and a spring will work too. It drops the temperature in the runs about twenty degrees on a hot day. The material comes in white and dark grey. The dark grey seems to work best.

Another word of warning: if for some reason, you have to shave down a long-haired dog for the summer, leave an inch or so of hair on top of his back. This prevents damage by the sun to his vital organs.

Here's to fun and safe summer shows!

J.S. Talk

By Kiann Robinson

Hello Beardie lovers!

I would first like to apologize for my negligence in writing an article. As we all know, there are not enough hours in a day and certainly not enough days in a week to get everything done!

I guess I'll begin by introducing myself. I'm Kiann Robinson, a 13 year old, and like most of you, I fell in love with Beardies at first sight!! I have been attending dog shows since I was about 2 feet high, but my experience in the J. S. ring is limited as compared to the breed ring. I have been attending dog shows for quite a long time, although we haven't always had Beardies. I've got to admit, Beardies ARE the Best!!!

I read the Gazette often and last week I read an article in the J. S. column that was quite interesting. It was written by Francesca Weisser and it was titled "Keep The Dog Between You and the Judge." It discussed the possibility of this rule getting a bit out of hand. I would like to submit a paragraph or two for those who didn't have the pleasure of reading the article.

"...Too often, the showmanship ring becomes the O.K. Corral with the Junior and the judge engaged in a showdown to see if the former (Junior) can be "caught" on the same side of the dog as the latter (judge). It is almost comic to see a judge weaving a serpentine down the line of dogs as fast as he or she can, and to see the Juniors hurdling their dogs to avoid being "caught." This is not handling, this is not even close. The dog's appearance is never considered. The only thing which seems to matter is whether or not the dogs move while the judge and Junior are engaged in these "gymnastics"..."

It was particularly interesting to me--not because of my rather limited J. S. experience but because of my longer term of breed ring experience among top professional handlers. I can firmly state, THEY do not play the "O. K. Corral" game, nor do I believe the judges wish them to. It seems to be a game plan reserved for J. S. alone and encouraged by ALL J. S. books. Perhaps it's simply reached a point of ridiculousness?

I would certainly love to hear from you about this article and your ideas, experiences, and opinions on this or any other area of interest to the J. S. person. This is "OUR" column and your input will make the column more interesting and informative. So please, write me on any topic related to J. S. (or breed ring handling for that matter) and I will be pleased to publish it in this column.

So long for now, and PLEASE WRITE!!!!

The Versatile Herding Beardedie

by Mari Taggart

We are very lucky to have Bearded Collies. From a herding standpoint, we have something for everyone. Unlike Border Collies (that have just one - strong eyed - style of herding to choose) and unlike Australian Shepherds (that don't have clearly defined styles) we have two clearly defined styles of herding Beardedie within our breed. If one doesn't suit one's needs, the other surely will.

Few farms in Britain have just sheep or just cattle - most have a few thousand sheep, maybe a few hundred cows or hogs, with some geese, ducks or chickens about the place. As a result, the Bearded Collie is capable of working all sorts of stock - from "hunting" sheep down from the mountains to driving cattle down a lane to penning the fat goose for Christmas dinner!

The two styles, Huntaways and Strong-eyed, are by no means clearly defined in a Beardedie just starting to work. The huntaway is usually very noisy, keeping up a vigorous barking as it runs. The strong-eyed dog may be totally silent, using some "eye", or be very free moving. The term "strong-eyed" is something of a misnomer, since very few Beardedies have as strong an eye as a Border Collie, for example. While the Border Collie was bred for strength of eye which is so flashy for trials, the Bearded Collie remained a practical farmer's helper, not as classy to watch but very functional. It is most interesting that Border Collie breeders have now recognized that a lot of eye is a detriment in a functional dog and are now breeding upstanding, moderate-eyed herders--just like the Bearded Collie! Most "strong-eyed" Beardedies have enough "eye" to keep their head in the right direction, but not so much as to cause them to crawl about on their bellies or stick up and refuse to come on to their sheep.

Herding ability is inherited and as we see dogs being certified on style we should soon be able to draw some conclusions as to what particular herding traits are dominant. Thus far, just from this writer's personal observations, it would appear that "eye" is dominant to a "huntaway" style. This is also true in other breeds. The vast majority of Beardedies are fetching or gathering dogs, and it is my feeling that probably 100% would be if they were properly physically conditioned and not inhibited (as a few are by lack of socialization, poor temperament or obedience training by harsh methods).

Will a huntaway to huntaway cross produce a litter of huntaways? We hope to know more in the next few years. Clearly there is a need for dogs of both styles in the ranching community--to be able to predict the styles of the puppies would be a great aid to selling dogs to the right homes.

Many ranchers prefer a huntaway for their unique terrain. A mountainous or heavy brush range situation demands a huntaway type of dog, and it is here that the Border Collie (the most popular farm dog) has not met the need. Likewise, some ranchers like the strong-eyed Beardedie for its easy moving style coupled with its less intense herding desire (most Beardedies are not obsessive about herding and will quit when you tell them to instead of creeping off when your back is turned). In addition, the Beardedie is rarely predatory toward the stock--most love the new lambs and spend as much time washing their faces and nuzzling them as their mothers do! And most are protective of their flock--once they work a group of animals they are theirs!

The Bearded Collie is truly a versatile, exciting herder, and can work big flocks of sheep, aggressive cattle, sensitive milk goats and flighty ducks. For the Beardedie, being a "jack of all trades" is all in a day's work!

CH PARCANA JAKE McTAVISH

Shown winning Group First under Mrs. Maynard Drury

In the 11 shows from Nov. 1 of last year through April 7 Jake won 11 Best of Breeds, 2 Group Firsts and 2 Group Seconds. He now totals 25 Best of Breeds and going strong.

Jake is also producing well with 3 champions from his first two litters, another pointed and more soon to be shown. Watch for the litter from Ch. Crisch Deja Vu At Brynwood, owned by Diane Brunner. These should be super show prospects.

We are also proud of Jake's kennelmate Crisch Kringle At Parcana (known as "Santa", naturally!) with 14 points both majors in his first 6 shows. The judges love him for his soundness and happy attitude.

At Stud: Ch. Parcana Jake McTavish Fee $400. Available for now in Missouri with Don Glenn.

Ch. Parcana Silverleaf Vandyke Fee $400. Sire of Jake and 9 other champions.

Santa fee at private treaty until proven.

CH.* BONNYTOWN'S FIFTH AVENUE

This exciting young champion finished at 19 mos., earning his first points from the Puppy Class; a 4 pt. major at 6 mos. He was then shown in the Bred by Exhibitor Class to finish and become our first homebred champion.

Buddy seems to be turning heads wherever he goes. He excels in movement, temperament, proper coat and correct size. He is pictured going BOS under judge Mrs. Edd E. Bivin at the spring '85 International KC show. This was his first time out as a special and our first bench show...what an exciting day!

Watch for Buddy in '85 as he continues to "wow 'em" as a special!

ALTHOUGH THE SCHEDULE IS CROWDED, WE HOPE THERE IS ENOUGH TIME LEFT FOR YOU TO VISIT AND TALK WITH EACH OTHER SINCE THAT IS ONE OF THE IMPORTANT REASONS TO COME TO A NATIONAL SPECIALTY!

THERE ARE MANY WONDERFUL THINGS TO SEE AND DO IN THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST. THE NWBCC INVITES YOU TO COME EARLY OR STAY A FEW DAYS AFTER THE SPECIALTY TO DO AND SEE SOME OF THE THINGS THIS AREA IS FAMOUS FOR. CONTACT NWBCC MEMBERS FOR HELP IN THINGS TO DO OR PLACES TO STAY BEFORE AND AFTER THE SPECIALTY.

IF YOU WOULD LIKE TO ATTEND AN ALL-BREED SHOW, THE MT. BAKER KENNEL CLUB SHOW IN BELLINGHAM, WASHINGTON IS SUNDAY, JUNE 30, 1985. SUPT: B. JEANNE ROBERTS, P.O. BOX 4658, FEDERAL WAY, WA 98063.

REMEMBER--THE REASON FOR THE JULY DATE FOR THE NATIONAL SPECIALTY THIS YEAR IS THAT THE BEARDED COLLIE CLUB OF CANADA IS HOLDING A SPECIALTY AT THE DELTA RIVER INN, 3500 CESSNA DRIVE, RICHMOND, B.C. ON FRIDAY, JULY 12 AND SATURDAY, JULY 13, 1985. THIS SITE IS APPROXIMATELY FOUR HOURS DRIVE NORTH OF OLYMPIA. SUPT: MIKE WILLIAMS DOG SHOWS, BOX 718 VERNON, B.C. (604) 549-3755.

PLAN ON ATTENDING TWO, THAT'S RIGHT, TWO BEARDED COLLIE SPECIALTIES IN ONE WEEK! THURSDAY, JULY 11 IS A TRAVEL DAY SO YOU HAVE PLENTY OF TIME TO GET THERE AND SEE SOME SIGHTS ON THE WAY. A TRAVEL SUGGESTION WOULD BE FOR SEVERAL PEOPLE TO GET TOGETHER AND RENT A VAN FOR THE TRIP AND SHARE THE COST.

THE MEMBERS OF THE NORTHWEST BEARDED COLLIE CLUB HAVE WORKED VERY HARD FOR A LONG, LONG, LONG, LONG (WELL, IT SEEMS THAT LONG!) TIME. WE WANT YOU TO JOIN US AND HAVE A VERY GOOD TIME AT THE 1985 NATIONAL SPECIALTY. THIS IS THE FIRST BEARDED COLLIE NATIONAL SPECIALTY FOR US AND FOR THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST AND WE WANT IT TO BE A MEMORABLE ONE. ONLY A FEW OF US CAN WIN, BUT ALL OF US CAN ENJOY OURSELVES WITH GOOD FRIENDS AND GOOD DOGS!

SEE YOU ALL HERE IN JULY AT THE 1985 NATIONAL SPECIALTY!
